

Sustainability Policy

London Bio Packaging has a triple bottom line:

-  Environmental
-  Social
-  Economic

Environmental

London Bio Packaging products are sustainable in three main ways:

-  Made from Renewable/ Recycled Resources
-  Have a Low Carbon Footprint
-  Can be Composted or Recycled

We also provide a closed loop service to ensure any waste is composted or recycled.

London Bio Packaging is independently certified to the ISO14001 environmental management system. This means we identify measure and continually improve our environmental impacts.

London Bio Packaging reduces internal environmental impacts by:

-  Waste minimisation and recycling
-  Using recycled stationery/ office products
-  Offsetting carbon emissions for internal operations & deliveries
-  Providing bicycles for employees to come to work on!

Social

London Bio Packaging improves society by:

-  Ensuring equal opportunities within the company
-  Promoting the development of employees
-  Promoting the sustainability of our suppliers
-  Protecting the environment we all live in
-  Environmental regeneration in our community with Groundwork

Economic

London Bio Packaging wants to be economically viable to:

-  Be effective in environmental and social bottom lines
-  Pay employees fairly

Scope & Review Process

The sustainability policy reflects London Bio Packaging's aspirations to enhance our own business practices as well as those of broader society. LBP applies this policy in all business operations. London Bio Packaging aims to develop partnerships with a range of stakeholders to encourage the uptake of sustainable packaging and a renewable economy. London Bio Packaging is committed to a process of on-going review and continual improvement of sustainability. This policy is reviewed annually as we strive to make continual improvements in all three bottom lines.
